

Zuiryuji temple in Takaoka

Zuiryuji is located in Takaoka city of Toyama prefecture, it's 2:40hrs from Tokyo by "Shinkansen". From Takaoka to Kanazawa, it takes 15min. It's good to drop in Takaoka on the way to Kanazawa.

Gleaning about Zuiryuji :

The roof tile of the main hall of the temple is made of lead . (Normally, it should be made of ceramics.) This is because this makes the bullets of the gun in the case of war , and uses them. In addition, there is the hidden storehouse to save provisions of foods underground of the main hall. Thus, we understand this temple functions as a base in war time.

In Takaoka, there is another sight, "Takaoka Daibutu" (Huge statue of Buddha)
